3. You will be presented with a question. Below the question will be a text box that will allow you to type in your response.

- Grade: [blank]
- Homework date: 01-01-2013
- End date: 01-01-2014
- Completion date: Incomplete

Below the details is a paragraph of text: "A client's credit application has been denied. You telephone her and state the cause for this decision. You discuss ways she can improve her credit issues, counsel her on her right to receive a free credit report and advise her to try again in one year to give time for establishment of a favorable credit history."

A red arrow points to the following text: "You then mail her an adverse action letter stating the cause for this decision. On this adverse action form the consumer will also be provided with the name, address, and telephone number of the consumer reporting agency (CRA) that furnished the report. The client now has 60 days from receipt of the adverse action letter to request, in writing, a copy of her credit report for free from this CRA."

Below this text is the question: "TRUE or FALSE?"

A note states: "This assignment will not be accepted without submitting a detailed explanation."

The "Write text:" section features a rich text editor with a toolbar containing icons for bold, italic, underline, link, unlink, list, and other formatting options. A red arrow points to the text input area, which contains the placeholder text: "Provide the response and explanation here."

At the bottom of the editor, there are three links: "Readmore (start)", "Readmore (end)", and "Toggle editor".

The browser's address bar at the bottom shows "Internet".
